3 - INTEREST RATE

Type and level of applicable interest rate:

- Fixed. The interest rate remains invariable until the maturity of the transaction.
- Variable Rate. Fixed rate for the first months and variable rate for the remaining period, tied to a specific index. It is calculated based on one of the following indexes:
 - o 1-year Euribor (published in Official State Gazette [BOE]) from one month before, plus an agreed differential, adjusting it every 12 months, or
 - o Average rate for mortgage loans over 3 years to buy private housing granted by Credit Institutions in Spain (IRPH) from two months before, plus an agreed differential, adjusting it every 12 months

If the contractual interest rate is variable: It must be taken into account that even if the interest rate on this loan is variable, you will never benefit from falls in the interest rate below zero (0.00), for which reason under no circumstances will interest be earned by the debtor.

4 – LINKS AND PREPARATORY COSTS.

Signature of this loan does not entail the obligation to take out any product, with the exception of the payment account, and it is the borrowers who decide whether to consider other products or services.

Set-up fees to be paid by the customer:

- Commitment fee.

5- ANNUAL EQUIVALENT RATE AND TOTAL COST OF THE LOAN

The AER is the total cost of the loan expressed as an annual percentage. The AER serves to help you compare offers.

Example of the AER calculation (the amounts, percentages and commissions are stated by way of a guide):

The applicable Variable APR to your loan is: 7.07%

It includes:

Interest rate (First Year):	6.621%
One year Euribor (February/24)	3.671%
Differential	2.95%
Other Components of the Variable APR:
- Commitment fee (minimum 100€):	1.00%
- Account Maintenance Fee:	0 €

Total cost of the loan in absolute terms: 68,995.85 €

The Variable APR and the total cost of the loan are calculated on the basis of the following assumptions:

Amount:	50.000 €
Interest rate (First year):	6.621%
Interest rate (Rest)	Euribor + 2,95%
Period:	10 years

The amounts that have been indicated in this section are expenses that the borrowing party will assume.

French amortization system. Annual review.

The Variable APR has been calculated under the hypothesis that the reference indices do not change, therefore, this Variable APR will vary with the interest rate revisions.

(*) According to Law 5/2019, regulating Real Estate Credit Contracts, for the calculation of the Variable APR and Total Cost, if the loan is at variable interest, the highest value has been taken as the borrowing rate of the variable period between the initial interest rate and the one offered for this second period.
